

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

HOW TO CONVERT WORK INTO PLAY SECRET OF EDUCATION

By Walt. Le Noir Church
WHAT IS PLAY?

A normal boy is a wonderful combination of springy bones, elastic muscles and vibrant nerves. His chief difficulty is to find permissible expression for his surplus energies. If given free scope almost anywhere except in the mountains or deserts, he is likely to violate some convention, some civil or criminal law. That is why he takes to baseball, handball or even basketball, if conditions deprive him of the more savage contests of football, to shine in which is the dream of the average boy not denaturalized by too many don'ts.

My own earlier idea of Heaven was a place from which all don'ts were eliminated; and a boy could break the ice to go in swimming, if he wanted that fun. In the mind of the normal boy the idea of cleanliness is in no wise associated with Godliness—till after some girl has laughed at his decorated face and grimy hands, etc. Even then he may not see the reason for wasting perfectly good soap and water, cleansing beyond the zone of young feminine criticism; not, at least, till he finds that cleanliness is next, also, to the best health and most enduring strength, according to Mother Nature's own sanitary rules of receiving and giving.

In every boy, adolescent or matured (and also in their sisters, their cousins and their aunts), there is what Poe called "The Imp of the Perverse," which rarely fails to account for them doing the things they should not, or leaving undone that which should be done. It seems easier to do the wrong thing, till we learn the trouble it makes.

The hardest thing for a boy to learn is to obey, promptly, without question; at least till he has found from costly experience that it pays to obey; assuming that there is some one authorized to demand and enforce obedience. (And who shall say that is limited to boys?)

But when he has once learned that difficult lesson, he is in a way to fit himself to become a commander of others. It is the first decisive step.

It means self-control, the key to character building. The Master Key. For that reason, perhaps, the old fag system in English colleges is not without its good points. That surely teaches unquestioning obedience. Assuming the truth of the foregoing statements, laziness in a boy is caused by some form of invalidism, which may escape a medico's diagnosis; or else that boy is not interested in the task set for him. Sometimes it is both. Then look out for trouble—if the boy still retains vim enough to make his reclamation possible. Often when a boy seems intractable, obdurate, almost unendurable, it is because some alleged competent instructor is vainly trying to make a square peg fit in a round or triangular hole, contrary to every law of physiology, psychology or of ethics—yet within old pedagogic rules.

In one of the Glendale schools lately, a teacher came out into the hallway to answer a question. Hastily excusing herself for a moment, she hurried back into the class room, making straight for a boy looking overfed and home-petted to the verge of incompetency. She took him by the arm and returned with him, saying, "This boy is incorrigible. If I turn my back a minute he is into some dreadful mischief, something unique and wholly unexpected. His initiative in breaking rules is amazing." As they neared me, the half-resisting little burly chap was asking with a sort of resigned, what-is-to-be-will-be air, "He won't get me, will he?" As his stolid big blue eyes were looking straight into mine, I did not feel highly complimented. But as his captor turned him loose into the hall, while closing the door behind her, I tipped the culprit a sly wink, and that put him at ease at once. I was rewarded with an understanding smile I would hate to have missed. Then he went to playing around the corridor by himself, seemingly happy. When the teacher answered my question, I put another not related.

"What makes you call that little chap incorrigible?"

"Well, he goes right along, doing what he wants, as soon as my back is turned, and he does not care for punishment. I have tried moral suasion and petting him and everything else." "Except really loving him," I mentally added. But I could see that there was a mutual antagonism. While that exists, how can the teacher love the pupil or the pupil endure the teacher, except under strong mental protest? Some day provision will be made for promptly

APPEAL FOR BONDS

PROTECT GLENDALE AND RESTORE VALUES DEPRECIATED BY FLOOD MENACE

To the Voters of Glendale:

I wish to make a personal appeal to you to vote for the Flood Control bonds for the good of Glendale. The flood waters of Verdugo canyon in February, 1914, rushed down our streets in a great torrent. It cost the city over $1000 merely to clean the mud and silt from the streets. It caused considerable damage and depreciated property values. Nothing of any importance has been done to prevent like damage in the event of another flood. If the Flood Control bonds carry, $128,725 of the funds will be spent on Verdugo and Sycamore canyon washes. The plans for this work have been approved by Glendale officials who have examined them. The effects of this work will be to protect Glendale from damage by flood waters and restore values now depreciated by the flood menace. The assessed valuation of the whole Flood Control district is so large it will require a tax of only 3 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation to pay the principal and interest of these bonds. The first board of engineers of flood control filed with the board of supervisors July, 1915, their report estimating the entire cost of flood control work at $16,000,000 and the cost of the work on Verdugo and Sycamore canyons at $721,900 (see page 12). They also state on page 6 that this is 7 per cent. of our assessed valuation, including Glendale and Tropic. If the bonds are defeated this plan will be brought forward. Would you rather pay 30 cents on an assessed valuation of $1000 under the present bond plan or an assessment of $70 under the plan of the bond opponents? For my part, I strongly favor the bond plan. The 7 per cent. assessment plan would mean a great hardship in all cases, and in some cases confiscation and ruin. I appeal to you, therefore, if you love Glendale and wish to see it grow and prosper, go to the polls to-morrow and vote "yes."

FREDERICK BAKER.

To the Voters of Glendale:

We, the undersigned, have investigated the proposed issue of bonds for Flood Control, to be voted upon to-morrow, February 20th, and earnestly recommend that these bonds receive your support.

I urge all voters of this vicinity to get out and vote for the Flood Control bonds to-morrow for the following reasons:

1. It will lower our taxes by taking care of our local washes, upon which we are spending thousands of dollars every year for work that has no permanence and which must be repeated with every recurring flood.
2. It will place the burden where it belongs—upon the people as a detecting such antipathies and changing the pupil to another teacher, which is much more important than following any graded curriculum. The pupil is not made for the school, but the school should be made for the pupil, so adjustable that any idiosyncrasy in the pupil may be considered and dealt with to his advantage. But how can that be done with from 30 to 50 pupils in one room? Yet we are growing up to the larger ideal of education just as fast as our understanding of the needs develop. We can not help doing some irreparable marring of sporadic but most interesting cases, as we progress to the best of our ability under our limitations. Only born saints and angels can help thinking, "I do not like you, Dr. Fell. The reason why I can not tell."

But to answer the main question: Play, from a boy's viewpoint, consists in doing voluntarily whatever he is interested in and really wants to do at that particular time and place. Practically all other exertion is work, despised and hated work or disgusting toil. How to convert it into play is the great secret of education that educates.

SNUDDEN AND GUICE

METHODIST REVIVAL MISSION IN FULL SWING—SUNDAY A BIG DAY

Yesterday was a busy day at the First Methodist church. All the services of the day were well attended and the interest deep. At the Bible school hour a part of the time was given to an address by Mr. Guice. He gave a very striking and intensely interesting "object sermon." He gripped the attention of all from beginning to end. Laughter and solemnity chased each other, and through it all was a deep current of real, vital Christian appeal.

At the morning church hour Mr. Snudden, pastor, spoke to a large congregation on "Rock Foundations." The great chorus choir under the direction of Mr. Guice led the congregation in volumes of music.

Mr. Snudden based his sermon on the words "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." Cor. 3:11.

"The height and magnitude of a structure determine the foundations required. Christianity essays to build a structure which shall embrace God, man and eternity. Its foundation then must be the eternal God.

"Christ is the finality for spiritual things in the world. Only the truth can be final, and He said, 'I am the truth.' When he has spoken that is the last word to be said. You can not change what he said about sin by using perfumed words of your own. His word is final on sin, salvation, life, death, heaven and God. Any religious teaching which stultifies him, distorts his words and garbles his message, will not be a permanency. You can not play fast and loose with his words. Butcher his words and you destroy the sense; destroy the sense and you lose the meaning; lose the meaning and you miss the truth. The final word about God must come from God.

"The Christ's character marks him as the final foundation for spiritual life of men. The words of Pilate are the certificate of the world, 'I find no fault in him.' Christ's character was so full orb that he possessed the masculine and feminine qualities. We differentiate and say that feminine character is one thing, and masculine another, and as a result we have the double moral standard.

"In Christ's teaching he regarded himself as the one essential in the relation of men to God. He taught this in the simple, yet striking, parable of the vine and the branches. The work of Christ marks him as the hope of men."

At the evening church hour Mr. Guice spoke on "Hell." He said in part: "Those of you who have heard me preach more than once will know that I am an old fashioned preacher. I feel complimented by that. To-night I desire nothing but love and pity in my voice.

"The Bible doctrine of hell is a representation of love. God has been preaching love to you ever since you were born and if He has not been able to move you, I am sure I could not if I preached on love.

"Hell is a necessity. You can not have heaven without hell. Life could be heaven on earth if it were not for wicked men and women. There are men in this state who if they were in heaven would circulate a petition to open a saloon on one of the finest corners. There are women who would open a gambling card club. What could these people do in heaven?"

"A man is shallow to jest about hell. There is three times as much said in the Bible about it as is said about heaven. I would sooner make sport of your grief.

"You say, 'If my loved one is lost I don't want to be saved.' I sympathize with you. But you don't mean it. If your child is playing about the fire and its dress catches fire and the little body is burnt to a crisp, you do not thrust your little finger into the fire to show your love. No you do not.

"God never put a man into eternal punishment. He has done everything to keep men from breaking his laws and reaping the penalty. Harmony in the natural world depends upon unchangeable law. It is the same in the spiritual. Law is made for safety. Penalty is in broken law. Your belief will not change it. Penalty from broken law does not imply a lack of mercy on God's part."

Mr. Snudden will preach to-night. His subject will be, "The Chain Gang—A Hero's Glory." To-night will be Baraca, J. O. C., Philathea, and Young Business Men's Class night. These classes will be guests of honor. Everybody will be welcome.

FOOTHILL CLUB

MRS. G. K. BARNES AND MRS. E. K. BARNES ENTERTAIN NORTH GLENDALE LADIES

Mrs. G. K. Barnes and Mrs. Everitt K. Barnes entertained the members of the Foothill club Friday afternoon at a delightful George Washington party. Red carnations, acacia and ferns were used profusely to decorate the rooms where the guests were entertained and formed a pretty setting for the happy company which comprises the membership of the club living in the favored foothill district.

Various pleasing games had been arranged by the hostesses. The letters in the name, Washington, had been hidden in every conceivable nook and corner, from the ceiling to the floor, in the various rooms, and there was a merry scramble to see who could find the letters making the word Washington the greatest number of times. Another interesting game was making as many words as possible from the letters contained in the word Washington, in a given time. Prizes of cut glass and Bohemian ware were won by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, Mrs. E. B. Wyman and Mrs. Everitt Barnes.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Elliott B. Wyman, president; Mrs. G. K. Barnes, vice-president; Mrs. Alfred Priest, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Julius Kranz was reappointed chairman of publicity.

Very dainty refreshments in which hatches and cherries were prominent were served by the hostesses. A special guest of the afternoon was Mrs. E. R. Watt. The meeting was one of the most enjoyable ever held by the members of the club.

A TANGIBLE TOKEN OF APPRECIATION

The other day while securing an advertisement from the Conrad Vulcanizing Co., 1011 W. Broadway, the advertising man of the Evening News wrote a letter for Mr. Conrad exploiting the excellence of the B. F. Goodrich tires, for which the Conrad Vulcanizing Co. are local agents.

Much to the surprise of the News management a new Goodrich "barefoot" casing was delivered at the News office Monday morning with the compliments of the B. F. Goodrich Co., as a mark of appreciation for the letter.

We sure extend our thanks to the Goodrich Co., as well as to the Conrad Vulcanizing Co., for the tire and incidentally remark that the Goodrich tires on a roadster used by the Evening News have been eminently satisfactory and have given exceptional mileage, which makes the tire just received doubly welcome.

DEATH OF FORREST ACKLEY

Forrest M. Ackley, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ackley of 210 S. Kenwood street, passed away at Miami, Arizona, Sunday, at the age of 32 years. The young man was taken ill on Saturday with an attack of meningitis and passed away suddenly. He was associated with his father in the real estate business at Victorville for some time, but had been in Arizona since the first of the year. The deepest sympathy of the people of this community is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Ackley in their sudden and sad bereavement.

The remains will reach the Pulliam Undertaking establishment in Glendale to-morrow. Funeral arrangements have been deferred until the body arrives.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

Dr. Jessie Russell was the speaker of the afternoon at the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club at the Tropico city hall Thursday, the subject of her talk being the bills now pending before the state legislature in which the women of the state are especially interested. The women of California are advocating and trying to put through three bills, the moron colony, community property and women for jury duty measures. Dr. Russell gave a very comprehensive talk on the measures under consideration. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. C. M. Turk, Mrs. Robert L. Kennedy, Mrs. C. L. Peckham and Mrs. C. A. Barker. The club will give a card party at the home of Mrs. Ed Virden on Mira Loma avenue Tuesday. The next regular meeting of the club, which will be on March 1, will be an evening meeting and the members and their escorts will be invited. A special program will be arranged for the evening.

NOTHING TO LOSE AND MUCH TO GAIN

If the Flood Control bonds are voted at to-morrow's election it means that Glendale and vicinity will have about $128,000 of improvements made on the Verdugo and Sycamore canyon washes. If the bond election fails to carry it means that these washes will go unimproved or it will rest upon the shoulders of the people of the Glendale community to pay a very high assessment rate for the improvement. This is clearly an instance in which the Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo voters should be wide awake to their own interests. The voters of some parts of the country may not have any good reasons for favoring the flood control bonds, but the voters of Glendale are grossly careless if they do not use every available means to carry the bonds.

A REAL DAYLIGHT HOLDUP

When a thief is caught with stolen goods in his possession he is dealt with severely. Paper manufacturers have been caught in the act of stealing money from the trade, and why not treat them as the common thief? These men have taken money that did not rightfully belong to them. They know it, and everybody knows it. The great wonder is that it has been possible for them to delude the people as long as they did. The paper jobbers seemed to protect them by remaining silent, and speculating on the high cost of paper.

Had the jobbers gotten busy in the early stage of the increase in the price of paper stock, and made known to the proper authorities that the increase in price was uncalled for, many millions of dollars would have been saved to the users of print paper.

Newspaper publishers have been made to bear the bulk of the burden caused by the increase in the price of paper. In most instances there has been no increase in subscription rates, and in cases where the increase was made there was a sufficient falling off in patronage to offset the gain counted on from increased subscription rates.

A real daylight holdup has taken place and the sufferers belong to that class whose business it should be to expose all crooked methods in business. It is not too late yet to do the exposing.

whole, and not on those who are unfortunate enough to be overrun by the shifting streams that are continually breaking new channels and devastating new areas.

3. It will provide a comprehensive plan of control so that the work done in our own community will fit in and co-ordinate with the work in other sections, thus stopping an immense amount of haphazard work that has no permanence or continuity.

4. Every year our county loses an average sum through flood devastation almost equal to the proposed bond issue. If we wait until rival engineers can agree on a plan of development, our fertile valleys will be washed into the sea.

By voting these bonds you will remove one of our gravest menaces, will advance the value of our property, will bring Eastern capital to forward our development and will give employment to labor at a time when it is most needed.

GRAND OFFICER PAYS OFFICIAL VISIT

La Halla Temple of Pythian Sisters initiated three new members and entertained the Grand Chief of California, Mrs. Ida Hall of Council Grove, who made her official visit to the lodge, and the district deputy chief, Mrs. Day of Long Beach. Other officers and visitors from Los Angeles were present and saw the work of the temple exemplified by the efficient corps of officers. The new members initiated were Mrs. Nellie Shipman, Mrs. Ed Shipman and Mrs. Berman. Appropriate speeches were made by the visiting officers and at the close of the meeting all adjourned to the banquet hall, which was prettily decorated with roses and ferns, and enjoyed an appetizing supper.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tower of 743 South Adams street were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans of 113 Orange street Sunday.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt. Le Noir Church

STUDY XXVII. GLENDALE DEVELOPMENT.

The election to vote Bonds for Flood Control is very much in evidence as the present paramount thing to be done. While going over the records of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, I find that June 10th, 1914, the following letter was received from the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County:

"Gentlemen:

"On April 3, 1914, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles appointed a County Board of Engineers on Flood Control, consisting of five eminent engineers, for the purpose of securing data necessary for adopting a comprehensive system for storm water protection.

"A report was filed by this Board of Engineers on June 4th, and a call has been issued by the Board of Supervisors for a convention to be held July first, for the purpose of considering plans for the disposal of storm water in the various sections of the county."

Though widespread efforts were made, no adequate measures were taken.

Then the deluge.

The dreadful losses need not be catalogued. The people alone, or the railroads alone, could well have afforded to do all that was advised by the County Board of Engineers on Flood Control, costly as the work would have been.

But those proposed "millions for defense" seemed too much like "tribute" to so many people who naturally oppose increase of taxes, that the great enterprise lost the name of action.

Of course, if our foresight had been as good as our hindsight we would have been prepared. But our lack of preparation cost millions of dollars.

Whatever be true of other histories, it is too well known that the history of the floods repeats itself—sooner or later.

MEN HOSTS AT TROPICO M. E.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the Tropico M. E. church were entertained by the men of the church on Thursday evening and a very delightful program was arranged in their honor. The men acting as hosts on this occasion were Rev. Henry Goodsell, Rev. J. H. Henry, Mr. Cameron, Robert Taylor, Rev. Don S. Ford and Mr. Hyer, and so proficient did they prove themselves in the art of entertaining that the ladies requested an invitation to another affair of this kind. The program consisted of a song by all present, "My Heavenly Home"; prayer, by Robert Taylor; reading, Psalm 72, by Mr. Cameron; address on "Foreign Missions," by Dr. Goodsell, solo, by Will Marple; address on "Foreign Missions" by Rev. Ford; solo by Dr. P. O. Lucas, and a sketch by Will Marple and Dr. Lucas. This latter program number was especially enjoyed, the sketch representing an old couple who had weathered the storms of life together, seated by the family fireplace talking over the sorrows and joys of past years. Will Marple took the part of the aged husband and Dr. Lucas the wife, and so cleverly did they portray their parts that some of their best friends in the audience did not recognize them. At the close they sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Refreshments served by the gentlemen consisted of doughnuts and rosy cheeked apples, which they passed around in good old time fashion and no feature of the evening's entertainment was more enjoyed. A silver offering was taken for the benefit of the Society and was the largest collection ever taken at a meeting of this society.

WHY THE CHURCH AT JONESVILLE WENT OUT OF BUSINESS

At the Sunday morning service, Rev. Norcross, pastor of the West Glendale Methodist church, strove to make clear the fact that a church will go out of business if it does not fulfill the purpose for which it is intended. He told, in a brief manner, of the mighty work that is being accomplished by the West Glendale church.

He said that each individual and institution should have a purpose. He made it clear that every human being has a duty to perform. We often stop and wonder just why God keeps us alive.

In a bee hive the drones are short lived. The pastor brought a new slogan to the congregation: Not a Drone in This Hive. He then proceeded to outline a program of endeavor for the Lenten season. He said that in order to accomplish great things great things must be undertaken. He then had an outline placed upon a large blackboard which read as follows:

1. Education.
2. A Definite Plan of Work.
3. Attendance 25 per cent. increase.
4. League of Prayer, 75 people (that the church may be led from above in the carrying out of this plan).
5. Sunday School, 25 new scholars.
6. Add 35 members to the church.
7. More for missions (each Sunday during this period special self-denial collections will be taken by S. S. classes).

This program is to be concluded by Easter Sunday. Busy bees in the Master's kingdom will be the guiding thought during this Lenten season of seven weeks' duration. This

Ben. Franklin is credited with a lot of good advice to his fellow men. None is better than one fact he often insisted on: "Prevention is better than cure."

The interest on the cost of prevention would be small compared with the great difference between the cost of prevention and the cost of cure. Glendale has the best water in Southern California, all things considered. But while water is a good servant, it is a bad master—as many flood-desolated fields, orchards and farmhouses, and town houses and city houses have proved.

In and around Glendale are so many hundreds of acres of fine land that are flood-threatened after the waters reach a certain not improbable height, that the refusal of the county to vote those Flood Control Bonds might in time bring dire disaster to Glendale. But even should Glendale itself prove immune from the flood, the indirect effects from loss and destruction in other parts of Los Angeles County may prove to be a calamity to Glendale also, for the material interests of the whole county are so indissolubly connected that ruin in one part of the county is felt all over it. The principle of all for one and each for all applies here, also, and again we are forced to realize that none of us is entirely independent, none wholly dependent; but we all are so mutually interdependent that there is no such thing as a calamity affecting just one alone; for sooner or later all the others feel it, and some way are affected by it, even if not realized at the time the reaction occurs.

To all the other strong inducements for new people to come here to live, why not add this one more, after we vote those Flood Control Bonds, and the contemplated work assuring safety first, last and all the time is fully completed: "Glendale is absolutely flood-proof."

season becomes one of special endeavor in the Protestant church year by year. Each will find an avenue of endeavor. An earnest plea was made that the congregation undertake to outdo their former high standard that has been set during the period of the last four years.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. W. E. Edmonds preached yesterday morning another sermon based upon the history of the prophet Elijah as found in 1 Kings 17, the incident of the restoration of the widow's son. The speaker made very emphatic that all of God's chastisements are for our good, always proving to be for our profit. One must get down into the depths at times in order to rise toward God. The sad experiences of our lives are not in vain. Elijah had been dwelling for months alongside the brook Cherith, being cared for by the Lord, but he had not hesitated to "Go down to Zarepath" when the order came. We are willing to acknowledge God's goodness, but when it comes to going down into the valley we object however clear the call may be. We must pay the price for the blessings which we enjoy. We have to get rid of many things that stand in the way of obedience to God. It was Paul who exclaimed, "Let us lay aside every weight," that is one thing necessary, another is obedience and a third is love of His Word. A man will be judged by his home life, many men have achieved success in the world and have been a failure at home. Unless your home life is in harmony with your church life, unless your life at home and your life in the open are harmonious, you are a failure. The widow at Zarepath naturally felt that she had a right to keep the little that she had for the use of her son and herself, both in the last stages of famine, but she recognized that the prophet was the representative of God and she yielded to his request. The curse of the world is putting God second; he must come into your life and occupy the first place, laying aside the sins that "do so easily beset us."

Personals

Miss Naomi Berry, formerly of the Irish Linen store, has taken a position with Shilling Company's store.

Mrs. Hartley Shaw of 144 W. Park avenue, Tropic, spent to-day in Los Angeles visiting her mother, Mrs. H. S. West.

Mrs. Bush and daughter Jean of Harvard boulevard, Los Angeles, were guests of Mrs. F. Marion Gray at the Hotel Gray Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Capron and little daughter Dorothy of St. Paul, Minn., visited Mr. Capron's aunt, Mrs. F. Marion Gray of the Hotel Gray Saturday.

The Playground committee of Tropic will give a five hundred card party in Yeoman's hall, Tropic, on the evening of the 21st, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the playground.

Mrs. Nellie Rodman and Mrs. Oliver Tubby of Anchorage, Alaska, who are in Southern California for the winter, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitaker of 1448 Salem street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tower entertained the teachers in Mr. Tower's biology department in the Polytechnic high school of Los Angeles at dinner at their home, 743 South Adams street, Saturday evening. The guests were Miss Mary Meredith, Miss Jessie B. Peirson, Mrs. Elizabeth Hodges and Miss Charlotte Lord, head of the history department.

Mr. Cameron Johnson gave an interesting illustrated lecture on China last Friday evening at the Bible Institute, to an audience of 2000 persons. Next Friday evening he will lecture on Japan, also illustrated with his own beautiful colored pictures, before the same audience. Glendale people will have the opportunity of hearing this lecture at the Presbyterian church on Thursday, March 8th, at 8 o'clock.

The Mother's Study club met at the home of Mrs. J. P. Hilbert, 1519 Vine street, when the members finished reading "Training the Boy," and found the closing chapters a very good climax to the book and the best of it all. The book was not finished in time to begin the reading of "Training the Girl," as expected, and the club will begin this book at the next meeting, which will be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Hilbert. Mrs. Snell resigned as reader, finding it impossible to attend every meeting, and Mrs. Minnette Sherman was unanimously chosen as the regular reader.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Latter, 316 Boynton avenue, entertained on Sunday in honor of the birthday anniversary of their daughter Doris. A delicious five-course turkey dinner was served. The table looked very pretty with its huge centerpiece of English violets, the color scheme being carried out in the favors of lavender and yellow. The blowing out of the candles on the beautiful birthday cake caused much merriment among the youthful guests. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Latter, Miss Margaret Lushy, Miss Lela Siple, Earl Brown, Harold Latter, Archie Latter and Miss Doris Latter.

Mrs. H. V. Everly, 1634 Oak street, was hostess last week at a beautifully appointed Valentine luncheon. The dining room was hung with strings of red hearts, reaching from the four corners to the center of the room. An elaborate bouquet of red carnations and ferns was arranged on a reflector in the middle of the table, while valentine place cards and favor baskets tied with tulle and filled with red candy hearts added to the brilliant color effect. The valentine idea was carried out in the salad, cakes, ices, etc. The guests were Mesdames H. W. Yarik, E. L. Schuyler, S. R. Frazee and E. H. Willisford.

Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Everly entertained Thursday evening with a five hundred party at their home, 1634 Oak street. The tables were arranged in the living room, which was transformed into a bower of acacia blooms. The dining room was artistically decorated in hearts and red carnations, the valentine idea being carried out in the buffet supper served at the conclusion of the games. The ladies prize, a gold flower pin, was given Mrs. C. S. Steelman, and Mr. C. M. Van Dyke was awarded a gold chain pencil, the consolation falling to Dr. Steelman. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Steelman, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Abbell and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Chappell.

A nice little sum was netted by the Cerritos avenue Parent-Teacher association at its entertainment at the high school Saturday evening, the proceeds of which are to go toward the payment for a Victrola for the school and a rest room for the teachers. An interesting program was rendered, among the numbers being "Mrs. Pollywig's Wax Works" by the pupils, vocal selections by Miss Margaret Sroufe, Miss Ruth Mitchell and Mrs. Alma K. Moss of Los Angeles, readings by Miss Lillian Druce and Miss Mouser of Los Angeles, a dance, "St. Denis Mazurka," by Doris Cook, and a monotonous selection, "Mother's a Suffragette," by Prof. Kennedy. Messrs. Young, Goodrich and Hartley Shaw. Mrs. Hartley Shaw had charge of the program. The president of the Cerritos P.-T. A. is Mrs. A. H. Gaarder.

Miss Charlotte Alspaugh of Puyallup, Wash., arrived in Glendale Friday and is the house guest of Mrs. Frank Ayars of 1314 Chestnut street. Miss Alspaugh and Mrs. Ayars were classmates at Lombard college in Galesburg, Ill.

The West Glendale W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hyatt, 1634 W. Broadway. Mrs. Marion Scarce, state superintendent of the flower mission department of the W. C. T. U., will be present and will be the speaker of the day.

Miss Vantyne Smith of 305 North Glendale avenue was hostess to her Sunday school class last Saturday afternoon at her home. Her intention was to take the girls to the hills, but on account of the inclement weather the afternoon was spent in games and song. Those present were Millicent Alvord, Margaret Frazee, Fay Butler, Edith Atkinson, Edith Seylor and Vera Cox.

W. C. Wattles of 332 N. Glendale avenue, captain of the White Star patrol of the Elks lodge, has been appointed by State Exalted Ruler Scoonover as one of the committee to go to Del Monte Saturday to arrange for the Elks' state reunion to be held in Monterey in October, and decide on the drills for the different patrols. Mr. Wattles is chairman of the committee and is being sent to Del Monte by the local lodge of Elks.

Mrs. Perce Curtis was hostess to the members of the Phi Beta Phi fraternity at her home, 1304 North Central avenue, Saturday afternoon, when a very delightful social afternoon was spent. A number of vocal and instrumental selections by Miss Louise Spaulding were enjoyed and the ladies made good use of the time doing fancy needlework. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Curtis. The guests were Miss Maud Soper, Mrs. Chas. Rathbone, Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. S. J. Spaulding, Miss Louise Spaulding and Miss Charlotte Alspaugh.

The home of Mrs. and Mrs. W. M. Crawford at 916 South Central avenue was the scene of a pretty informal valentine party on Friday evening, given for their daughter Margaret and a few of her friends. The decorations were all suggestive of St. Valentine and games and a valentine box passed the evening happily for the young guests. A dainty repast, consisting of many good things, was served about 10:30 and done full justice to. The guests were Misses Eva Green, Martha Meyers and Lillian Mason; Masters Claude Hennon, Freeman Fowler, Frank McGillis, Tom Lyon, Guy Bennett and Burdett Rockhold.

Some of the pupils of Mrs. Eva Cunningham took part in a joint recital with some of the pupils of Vernon Spencer at the latter's studio in the Majestic theatre building, Los Angeles, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Cunningham's pupils, who took part in the very interesting program, were Robert McReynolds, Shirley Hitchcock, Genevieve Lynch, Glenn Cunningham, Margaret Brown, Margaret Harden, Helen Harsh, Waldo Yard, Elizabeth Walker and Louise Coates. The parents of the pupils who attended the recital were Mrs. E. D. Yard, Mrs. Irene McReynolds and Mrs. Howard Walker of Glendale, and Mrs. Harden and Mrs. Harsh of Eagle Rock.

A. W. Kinney, industrial commissioner of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, spoke at the meeting of the Mothers' club of the Acacia avenue school Friday afternoon, his talk on home products containing many good ideas and valuable suggestions. Mrs. A. J. Van Wie gave two very enjoyable vocal selections and a very pleasant afternoon was spent. The club hopes to finish paying for the new $75 grafonola and the tennis court which is nearing completion by the first day of May, when a May day festival will be given. The ladies are planning a series of teas at the homes of the members, at which silver offerings will be made for the benefit of the club fund.

M. E. BARACA CLASS ITEMS

Rev. Snudden had charge of the class in the absence of Mr. L. Ellis, who is in the East.

To-night is young people's night at the revival mission in our church. Let all Baracas be present.

VALENTINE PARTY

Mrs. J. B. McClellan of 318 S. Central avenue entertained Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. W. C. Boyd of Long Beach. The decorations were of hearts in honor of the Valentine season and the red color scheme was carried out in the refreshments. A guessing game, music by Thomas M. McClellan and Miss Annabelle McClellan and happy social intercourse made the afternoon a very pleasant one for all. The guests were Mrs. Boyd, the guest of honor, Mesdames Frank Adams, Clyde Brooks, W. J. Clendenin, J. B. Porter, G. B. Porter, M. L. Weaver, W. W. Stott, M. S. Russell, Fred Hagin, Daudna and Miss Olive Miller of Aledo, Ill.

The Woman's Club of Van Nuys will lay the cornerstone for its new clubhouse now under construction, on February 22 at 2:30 o'clock. The program for the occasion includes vocal selections by Ellen Beach Yaw and addresses by Harrison Grey Otis and others.

ILLUSTRATED TALK ON KOREA

Mr. Cameron Johnson, of Richmond, Virginia, is with us for an indefinite time, making his headquarters in Glendale, while he has been speaking in many churches throughout the vicinity. He has spoken six times in the Presbyterian church, each time on different themes, and will speak again at the open meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, on the subject, "Korea's Roll of Honor," and on March 8th, under the auspices of the Young Women's Missionary Society, at 8 o'clock, on "The Key to the Far East." This lecture is illustrated with 150 beautiful pictures, taken and colored by himself.

Twenty-five years ago Mr. Johnson was the first layman from the Presbyterian church in the United States to enter Korea at his own expense. He was called to a professorship in Doshisha University at Kyoto, Japan, under the American Board, after which he labored heavily in the Government College, remaining twelve years in Japan.

Following this he took a Mission Study Tour of the world lasting a year and a half. During these years he accumulated a vast amount of illustrated material with his kodaks and cameras. He makes and paints his own slides, so they are original and unique.

During the last eleven years he has conveyed a missionary vision to churches of practically all the leading denominations in twenty-four states. These illustrated tales of travel caused enthusiastic comment at the "World" in Boston; the "Orient" in Boston; and the "World" in Cincinnati; besides various Chautauquas, conferences, etc.

He has a series of ten or twelve illustrated talks on various lands, with an average of 150 pictures each. Besides these are illustrated talks for men's gatherings, women's meetings or young people's societies, as well as object talks for Sabbath schools.

Dr. Merrill E. Gates, L.L.D., Ph.D., Ex-President of Rutgers College, New Jersey, and Amherst, Massachusetts, Secy. Board Indian Commissioners, Washington, D. C., says of him:

"Within the last several weeks I have listened to Mr. Johnson's illustrated lectures on China, Japan, Korea. In his comments upon the work, as well as his choice of the views and portraits to illustrate his lectures, Mr. Johnson seems to have seen most intimately and to have selected with the wisest discrimination, those essentials in the life, the customs and the scenery of the people and countries about which he lectures which will interest most intensely and inform most intelligently the general audiences of Christian people for whom his lectures are designed. His own prolonged residence in mission lands adds weight to his opinions. He has chosen to keep the language and the illustrations which he uses upon the level of familiar simplicity which renders them illuminating for all who attend. Yet, from time to time, he suggests, as generalizations from his own observations in brief sentences statesmanlike maxims and points of view which must command the respect of the best read, the most widely traveled, and the most thoughtful of his hearers. I commend most heartily Mr. Johnson's lectures as certain to increase an intelligent interest in missionary work on the part of all who hear them."

OPENS POULTRY EXCHANGE

C. E. Battey, who for the past four years conducted the Aconaland Ranch at 1029 N. Pacific, Casa Verdugo, has started a poultry exchange at 316 S. Brand Blvd., where he will deal in all breeds of thoroughbred chickens and make a specialty of hatching and selling small chicks.

Mr. Battey is a poultry man of over fifteen years experience and will conduct a poultry exchange that will deal only in birds of quality, and expects to conduct the business in such an honest and efficient manner that it will be the recognized poultry exchange of the San Fernando Valley.

In addition to thoroughbred poultry, baby chicks and hatching eggs, Mr. Battey will carry a complete line of his guaranteed poultry remedies.

KOREA'S ROLL OF HONOR

Mr. Cameron Johnson, the noted missionary, traveler and lecturer, will speak at the meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Everyone should make a special effort to hear him at this time. His subject is, "Korea's Roll of Honor."

SAY, WASN'T IT A GREAT MEETING?

Not able to be there? Well, we had a great time! The Christian Endeavorers dedicated the ground on Sunday afternoon for their Convention of March 16, 17 and 18. Whatever you do, don't forget those dates, and don't fail to come every session you can. There is a superlative line-up on program. After the Convention song, "Complete in Him," and a circle of prayers closed by the Rev. W. E. Edmonds, County Pastoral Councillor, we held the remainder of the meeting in the Christian church, where it was warm and homelike.

by all. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies of La Canada. Mrs. Holden of La Canada furnished two vocal numbers, the second on encore, both evidently appreciated.

The Hard Times Valentine Dance given by Mrs. Frank Corey at the Tavern for the benefit of the school piano fund was well attended, sixty-five numbers being sold. The dining room was beautiful with its red hearts and flowers. The music was furnished by Prof. Henry Hanrahan of Los Angeles and Mrs. Shelly of Sunland. The prize for the best costume consisting of a pound of salt pork, was given to Mrs. Hall, and Frank Ellercamp carried off the booby prize. There was a big attendance from Los Angeles. Everybody had a good time.

Mr. G. G. Corey of Santa Paula and Charlie Clemens of Ventura were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Rowley on Sunday.

The second quarterly meeting of Foothills Valley Federation was held at La Canada February 12, at 8 p. m. President Brooks of the La Canada Improvement Society called the meeting to order and in welcoming the members delivered an eloquent appeal for unity and progress. He was followed by Dr. Burke of the County Health Department, who recommended health districts through the country, each with its officers and trained nurse to look after the condition of school children and the general work of the department. Mr. Ashby, president of the Federation, talked on Lincoln and eulogized him as a model for all to follow. The Federation adjourned to meet with Tujunga next month, when the various committees will report.

Miss Dorothy Helps came up from Long Beach to attend the dance at the Tavern Wednesday night.

"CRISIS HOURS," THURSDAY NIGHT'S SERMON SUBJECT

At the special services now in progress at the First Methodist church, Mr. Guice preached Thursday night. He is a man with a message, but without any claptrap or cheap "stunts." Those who heard him on Wednesday evening will desire to hear him again. As musical leader and soloist he is deservedly popular. He is a Christian gentleman.

After a spirited song service Thursday night the Rev. Norcross of the West Glendale Methodist Episcopal church offered prayer, after which Mr. Snudden spoke from the words, "If it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve." Joshua 24:15.

"These words are worthy to go down the ages with the famous sayings of the world's great characters. Nelson at Trafalgar challenged his men with the words, 'England this day expects every man to do his duty.' Napoleon in Egypt inspired his men by pointing to the pyramids and saying, 'Soldiers, forty centuries are looking down upon you.' Moses, coming down from Mount Sinai and finding the Israelites worshipping the golden calf, cried out, 'Who is on the Lord's side?' Christ called men to allegiance with the words, 'He that is not with me is against me.'"

"The decision for or against God is a crisis in the life of every individual. It is critical because of the magnitude of the issues involved. The decision embraces life, death, sin, God, heaven, everything. Concerning this act Christ said, 'Every one therefore who shall confess me before men, him will I also confess before my Father who is in heaven; but whosoever shall deny me before men him will I also deny before my Father who is in heaven.'"

"In your choice the best stands over against the lesser good or possibly evil; the highest is over against the lower, the eternal opposed to the temporal.

"There are crisis hours in the life other than this great one, but they are all influenced by it. The choice of an occupation, of friends, of a life partner are all fraught with mighty possibilities. Your moral standards will determine the influence of your associates upon you and yours upon them. The decision for or against Christ means much for the home life. Friction, discord, wrecked homes follow in the wake of mismatched marriages. A home half Christian and half Goddess invites disaster.

"Decision for or against God is a matter of honor. You say you are a man of honor; your word is as good as your bond. Is it? The civilization in which you live has been fashioned by the Christ. His ideals and spirit permeate society. A few centuries ago your ancestors sat on their haunches in the forests of Europe and gnawed at a bone. They wrapped themselves in the skins of animals and carried a spear or club. The hospitals, orphanages, charity institutions, the efforts for the uplift of humanity are the result of Christianity. You are a man of honor. Have you paid your debt? Whatever you may think of Christ he was sincere in his life and death for men. You benefited by it. As a man of honor you should accept his teaching, adopt his ideals and permit the spirit of God to rule your life. The man of honor pays his debts. Ingratitude is one of the hideous things of life.

The rejecter of Christ should prefer charges against him as reason for his rejection. You are not as honorable with Christ as you are with a horse or a cow. In buying one horse in preference to another you state your reasons. You point out the defects in the rejected animal: broken winded, ringbone, spavin, stiff in the joints. Name over the charges you make against the Christ, and the reasons why you prefer some empty philosophy or idle worldliness.

"The decision for or against God is a crisis because of personal influence. It is a crisis because of responsibility you assume for yourself. It is a crisis because you choose responsibility for others. Every man carries his own atmosphere. Your influence will shape the destiny of some one. A man visited the Etruria pottery in England. The foreman in showing him around took a young workman along to handle the wares. The young man was a Christian. The visitor cracked unseemly jokes, at which the young man was at first shocked. Soon he began to smile at them. Some of the stories and jokes even took God's name in vain. The young fellow laughed aloud. When they came to the room where the finest work of the pottery was, the foreman took a rare, beautiful vase and let it fall to the floor. It was broken into a thousand pieces. The visitor cried out, 'There, see what your carelessness has done.' With flashing eye and indignant voice the foreman replied, 'I have destroyed that which human genius can replace. You have destroyed that in this lad's life which only God can restore.' In your decision remember you are your own and your brother's keeper."
